

Visual

Frederik Svendsen

September 2021

The algorithm itself only checks if the year is a leap year. It does this by checking first for if it is divisible by 400, if not, the number can't be divisible by 100. And at last, if none of the previous checks get a match it checks for divisibility by 4.